

Elder Haskell Williams

Brief Bio

Haskell Williams and his wife, Cindy (Mathiesen), graduated from Mount Pisgah Academy in 1970. His formal education through elementary and high school occurred on this campus. Together, he and Cindy attended and graduated from Southern Missionary College (now Southern Adventist University), getting married in the process.

Following seminary training at Andrews University, they responded to an invitation to serve the Florida Conference in three districts. Haskell and Cindy have three children and three grandchildren. They are delighted to be back home in the Carolina Conference, where they were born and grew up.
